—The addition to the new school house is rapidly approaching completion and will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of next term.

—A job lot of port monnaies, wallets, bill books, and money purses, for sale at Houghton's, at unheard of prices.

—The immense sale on those beaver overcoats at Harvey's, has obliged him to accept a second shipment. Will sell cheap. 10-31.

—Before you buy a sewing machine you should examine the Royal St. John, the best machine now in the market. Fine tables only $25.00. Call on Smith at Rinalter's.

—The large and old tree just south of S. Wolcott's house, in his door-yard, broke in two and fell in the wind storm of Nov. 14th. Fortunately it fell from the house.

—Harvey has the finest assorted lot of gloves and mittens ever brought to Wellington. Buck, dog and calf skin, yarn and cloth with leather fronts, and at prices to astonish the natives. 10-31.

—Our good citizen, Mr. Lewis P. Starr of LaGrange, in this country, has just returned from Kansas, after purchasing 400 acres of fine land from the Kansas Pacific Railway Company. Mr. Starr's two sons will settle upon the land immediately.

—The man who helped himself to some lumber from the new school house a few mornings ago, did not go early enough. He was seen at it, and now he wants to return it still earlier in the morning, or a black man proposes to make it lively for him.

—Miss Kate Powers is preparing to meet the wants of patrons in getting ready a supply of useful and beautiful articles suitable for holiday gifts. Go and see her stock in making your rounds of shopping with reference to Christmas. 10-11.

—Ladies who have not supplied themselves with cloaks and cloakers, can save 50 to 60 per cent. by buying them at Pitts's. A nice assortment received to-day. This offer is only good for two weeks, as all that are not disposed of within that time will be returned to the factory.

—Let it be remembered that among the other good things of the season, the ladies of the Disciple Church will hold their annual fair and festival in those pleasant rooms of Mr. Vischer's, over the store of Wooster & Adams, on the eve of Friday, December 5th, and will be glad to be pleased to entertain all their friends.

—A group of fourteen persons lately photographed by Mr. Sawtell, shows an interesting class in the M. E. Sunday school of Brighton, taught by a brother of H. Prady of this place. All but one of the officers of the school are embodied in the class, and the teacher has been absent but one Sunday in five and a half years.

—Special inducements will be given to subscribers to the ENTERPRISE who wish to club with other papers and periodicals. Subscriptions will be taken for New York, Cleveland and Cincinnati papers at lowest club rates. Anything published in the United States, furnished at the lowest living margins. Leading dailies kept on sale and furnished by the week to regular subscribers.

—Owing to the immense sale of Dry Goods, etc., at Rinalter's this fall, he has been compelled to go to New York the second time, where he now is buying goods, and if you want more, make arrangements to go to New York, and see his new supply of Cloaks, Circles, Shawls, Dress Goods, Skirts, Prints, Notions, Carpets, Boots, Shoes, Groceries, etc. Indeed, anything you need, at prices that will make you happy.

Personal.

Miss Augusta Stevenson, of LaGrange, has been visiting Mrs. Arthur Dimock.

W. F. Sawtell is doing some very fine work, some of it ordered with special reference to the approaching holidays.

We are glad to be able to report that Dr. McClaren is making steady progress towards recovery, though more slowly than we would wish.

Mrs. Anna Probert came to her mother's in company with an uncle last Friday evening, and will return to Columbus after visiting Norwalk this week.

Ell Clifford sends his subscription from Escanaba, Mich., and writes encouragingly of the climate and brisk business demands of the place, and region.

John M. Whitman and F. Rowley, formerly connected with the Oberlin Monitor, and re-christened it the Lorain Weekly Times.

Arthur E. Whitney, son of S. D. Whitney, of Pittsfield, is now one of the firm of S. Brainerd's Sons, music publishers, and located in their branch house in Chicago.—Oberlin News.

Miss Mary Marshall, an adopted daughter of ex-Prof. Wheeler of Baldwin University, has been appointed preceptress of a seminary for young ladies at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Mr. Lorenzo Childs, who returned from the West in such feebleness, a short time ago, does not improve, and feels the severity of the climate as all persons with delicate lungs do, at this season.

Mr. Chas. A. Hoyt, son of Rev. Dr. Hoyt, editor of the Western Christian Advocate, was admitted to the practice of law in the United States Courts yesterday.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Alfred Cellier, a wayward but talented Bohemian, a sort of satellite of Sullivan's, is now credited as having written considerable of Pinafore. We are now ready to add any number to the list.

The Ex-Emperor Eugenie, last Friday, passed through Paris on her way to Madrid, to see her mother, the Countess De Montijo, who died before her daughter reached her. Prince Napoleon and Ex-Queen Isabella were admitted to her presence.

The marriage of Mr. Wm. M. Sullivan of Strongsville, to Lily E. Brooks of Berea, which occurred Thursday evening at the West House, Brooklyn, was a pleasant and happy affair. Rev. E. H. Bush performed the ceremony.—Cleveland Leader.

Mrs. A. E. Dewey, of Norwalk, was present at the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Benham. The husband of a deceased step-daughter, from Pittsburg, was also present. Mrs. Ives returned to New York last week, her mother, Mrs. Adams, being no worse, and slightly improved in her symptoms.

The late N. G. Hoyt, whose death was mentioned last week, came to Penfield, from Harrodsburg, N. Y., in 1851, and except two or three years spent in Wellington, had lived there until his removal to Elyria two years ago. He was from early life a member first of the Presbyterian then the Congregational Church, and few men were more affable and courteous in neighborly intercourse, or strict in their interpretation of what was proper and consistent in the observance of Christian duty.

Farm Fencing.

Examine Phillips Portable Fencing, now on exhibition on Public Square, as it is the saving of half of the material and half the cost in building. Farmers should avail themselves of the opportunity of examining it. Farm fences and township rights for sale.

J. & H. O. PRATT.

Final Festival of 1879—The Ladies Grand Bazaar at the Congregational Church, Tuesday Evening, December 9th.

The ladies of the Cong. Church and Society, will hold a bazaar, Tuesday evening, Dec. 9th. The rooms of the Congregational Church will be opened for their accommodation. A substantial supper will be served in the parlors; also ice cream and cake to those desiring. The class rooms will be fitted up as booths for the sale of the numerous fancy articles. Among other attractions will be "The Old Woman in the Shoe," a photograph gallery, etc. Music of a high order will delight the ear and inspire the soul—in short an enjoyable time is anticipated.

Late News Notes.

The Faculty of Baldwin University, have decided that "No student will be allowed to own a share in the billiard hall located in the village, or to visit it."

F. R. Loomis, late of the Medina Gazette, has purchased and taken possession of the Norwalk, O., Chronicle.

The Whitney brothers of LaGrange have just completed a new saw-mill, a few rods east of Grafton Center.

Horace Abbe, of Elyria, is bringing from England, by way of Canada, some fine blooded stock.

A Universalist Church costing $30,000 has just been dedicated at Akron.

The Berea Advertiser says that business in the quarries is better than it has been for several seasons, and it is difficult to get cars enough to handle the stone.

Among the new students at Hudson are two young Japanese gentlemen.

W. F. Rudy, a young lawyer of Hayesville, in a quarrel and scuffle with Tobias Crono, living near Ashland, shot at random, hitting the old man, the ball entering the stomach and lodging near the spine.

List of letters remaining unclaimed in Wellington P. O., for the week ending Nov. 22, 1879.

Mrs. Emeline White, Miss Emma Miller, E. P. Carson, C. H. Clark.

A Bonanza of Books.

The Stock in Trade of one of the Oldest and Largest Book Stores of the West.

Inglam, Clarke & Co., 317 Superior street, Cleveland, O., are very well known as representative book stores, the senior member of the firm having been associated with that business in Cleveland since 1845, and undoubtedly the most accomplished and experienced connoisseur in his profession of any dealer in the West. Doing business with every publishing house of any note in the United States, and calling from the choicest collections of foreign houses, we are only calling attention to simple facts in attempting a brief description of the completeness and immensity of their stock.

The name of the firm above the entrance in the narrow limits of a crowded street, is less pretentious than that of many trading on a capital of a few hundreds, and gives no hint of the almost infinite variety of books on their shelves, and goods pertaining to their trade sojourn packed under all the counters and in every available space in a store occupying the basement and first floor of a building twenty-five feet wide and one hundred and twenty-five feet in depth. Doing a large business in both wholesale and retail trade, the house deals in books, every description, but the most learned and exhaustive treatise in science or theology, to the most attractive juvenile works or the latest fiction and the current literature of the day. Here may be found books with contents suited to every degree of attainment, in bindings to please the most fastidious taste, and upon all subjects, setting the indications of all classes of minds.

For the "book press," the aim of this house, and one only needs to examine any department to be surprised at the extent and fulness of the collection. A wholesale trade that embraces orders from every state of the West, which sends to California, the Sandwich Islands and China, and publications reach New Zealand and India, must of course comprehend the needs of every class in our own country. The BOOKS ON HAND.

Included in the stock on hand are in the United States, and seeing their stock one might suppose that for a time no more need be published. Sold at retail, and in quantities at wholesale, they are shipped to all points of the West, and every year replaced by others.

As everyone familiar with the wants of the modern schoolroom is aware, the books are only one item of the pupils requirements, and a glance at shelves, tables and counters, and the shelves of the necessary schoolroom implements of the present day, from a globe to a slate pencil, would be a revelation to the generations ago, who were fully equipped with two or three books, and possibly a slate, often carefully preserved and handed down from father to son.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

Contains several thousand volumes of choice books, selected from every available source, including the publications of all the religious societies, so that each denomination can come here for sending for one of Ingham & Clarke's catalogues, giving an economical plan of selection, obtain any list they may desire. In this department, we may mention that here may be found all the aids to both teachers and scholars in the study of the Bible, including Vincent's "Notes and Questions" and Peloubat's "Bible Notes" on the International series now out for 1879, together with maps, charts, and other aids to the study of the Bible.

Bible dictionaries, commentaries, compend, review cards, question books, and everything used as aids in preparing the lesson, or to assist in making clear what is taught in the Bible class or Sunday school. They have what they call their "Bible class" which is a complete set of the entire list of text books used in the Chautauque literary course.

THE RELIGIOUS DEPARTMENT.

Embraces standard theological books, commentaries by 34 authors, family Bibles, choice styles and in great variety; Teachers' Bibles, pulpit Bibles, of many kinds. This is also the depository of the American Bible Society.

The Oxford University Press has issued a complete series of "The Bible" class, consisting of the use of Sunday school teachers, and students of the Bible. They contain in addition to text with references, all that is important in other teachers' Bibles, besides valuable information, which is specially for these editions, embracing the results of the most recent explorations in Palestine, and the latest scientific investigations all through the East. "The Ingham Lectures" on the Evidence of Christianity, published three years ago, are still selling rapidly, nearly the whole of the second edition being exhausted.

There is a

CLASSICAL DEPARTMENT.

Where the linguist may find Greek and Latin text books, German, French, Hebrew, and Spanish books, Italian and Sanskrit, grammar and dictionaries.

And a

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Of several hundred volumes. Among these are standard works for the family, and the new medical books of every school of practice received as published.

IN THE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Are dockets and blank, Ohio statutes, books and books for justices, guides for administrators and township officers, and old and new standard law books, especially for these editions, embracing the results of the most recent explorations in Palestine, and the latest scientific investigations all through the East. new books as fast as published.

Among these we noticed Harper, Scribner, Appleton, Houghton, Osgood & Co., Appleton, Carleton, Lee & Shepard, Bigelow and Main, and were not further surprised to learn that any book advertised in any paper on any subject, could be furnished here at publishers rates in the miscellaneous department alone, 15,000 volumes are constantly in stock. Saying so much about books has left us no room to mention other goods pertaining to a book-store, such as globes, dictionaries, books and albums, but these are also here. Many more things than we can name, help to complete this mine representing the ideas, the fancies, and the achievements of all ages, which aside from the toll and gain is the real romance of book selling.

JUST FOUND OUT

That the place to buy Good Oysters is at the Star Bakery. We are selling more Oysters than ever, and on Friday and Saturday of this week we will have a fresh lot on hand; especially for Saturday's trade, and if you want them to eat on Sunday they will be in good order.

Next week Thursday will be Thanksgiving, and for that occasion we will have on hand some 20 or 30 gallons, fresh and nice. Remember that our brands are solid meats.

Oysters and lunch served at my rooms every day. No pains will be spared to please all who come.

My canned goods were bought when prices were very low, and I will sell them the same.

Trees.

Fruit, shade, ornamental of all varieties and grades. C. W. Baker of Painesville, O., who has been selling and delivering stock from the nursery of Storrs & Harrison of that place is receiving many words of commendation for the very excellent quality of his trees. His customers uniformly express entire satisfaction with both quality and price. He will continue to canvass in this vicinity all winter and will fill orders taken, next Spring. Reserve your orders until he calls on you and gives you prices. 6-4m.

Mr.

If your wife makes it unpleasant for you after buying shoddy coal oil, go to Bowley & Hall and buy the pure water white. You can afford to live in darkness.
